A possible storyline

The following words are provided for readers and supporters who want some ideas about one possible story. Most readers make their own story up from the pictures.

1. Kali watches the news. It says there is a new vaccine to stop people getting ill from coronavirus.
2. Kali has a videocall with Stefan. They talk about the vaccine and how it makes them feel. Kali thinks the vaccine is a good idea to keep people safe. Injections make Stefan feel nervous, but he thinks the vaccine is important.
3. Kali gets a call from her GP surgery. They ask if she wants to have the coronavirus vaccine. Kali says, "Yes," and makes an appointment.
4. Kali goes to have her first vaccine. She sees Stefan in the queue. He is getting his vaccine, too!
5. Kali and Stefan both have the vaccine. It's very quick.
6. Kali and Stefan meet up to go for walks outside. They still have to keep 2 metres apart.
7. Kali and Stefan go back for their second dose of the vaccine.
8. The nurses give them their second vaccine.
9. It's a few weeks since Kali and Stefan had their second vaccines. Shops and cafés are open now. They sit together in their favourite café. They feel happy that they can get close to each other again. It's been a long time!

How to read this story

This is a story for people who find pictures easier to understand than words. It is not necessary to be able to read any words at all.

1. Start at the beginning and read the story in each picture. Encourage the reader to turn the pages at their own pace.
2. Whether you are reading the book with one person or a group, encourage people to tell the story in their own words. You will discover what each person thinks are happening, what they already know, and how they feel. You may think something different is happening in the pictures yourself, but that doesn't matter. Wait to see if their ideas change as the story develops. Watch, wait and wonder.
3. It can help to prompt the people you are supporting, gradually going deeper into the meaning, for example:
  - I wonder who that is?
  - I wonder what is happening?
  - What is he or she doing now?
  - I wonder how he or she is feeling?
  - Do you feel like that? Has it happened to you/ your friend/ your family?
4. Some people will not be able to follow the story, but they may be able to understand some of the pictures. Stay a little longer with the pictures that interest them.
